FOR TROUBLE FREE PERFORMANCE

DRAIN OUT DIRTY OIL AND FILL UP WITH CLEAN LONG LASTING MARVELUBE now!

Dirty, thinned-out oil means incomplete lubrication of bearing surfaces, excessive wear and costly repairs—sooner or later. Dirty oil causes deposits of sludge, carbon and varnish in the engines of your truck and tractor, with resulting loss of power. Dirty oil not only "gums up" your engine, but its impurities give it corrosive properties—may start to eat into metal surfaces. Then you're headed for trouble.

Tough, heat-resistant Marvelube gives real protection. It keeps your engine free from damaging deposits. For a lively, smooth running engine, fill up with Marvelube now. Marvelube is the quality lubricant that gives trouble free performance.

Shower Flowers
A really wonderful showing can be made with half a dozen annual flowers. Cosmos, marigolds, zinnias, petunias, portulaca, nicotina, spider plant, calendula, alyssum, stocks, etc. are easily grown almost anywhere in Canada. Some of the larger flowers can be used in the place of shrubs. Seeds should be started early and in finely prepared soil. Plants are transplanted to permanent quarters when they are well established with several sets of leaves. Ready started bedding plants can be bought from the seed store or greenhouse man. For husky growth, tall things like cosmos, gladiolus, dahlias, giant marigolds and zinnias should have about two feet each way—petunias and similar things need about a foot.

Early, Medium and Late.
Most Canadian vegetables divide themselves into three main planting groups. In the first are the hardy sorts. These are planted just as soon as the soil can be prepared regardless of the weather ahead. They will stand a little frost, and for best results they must make their first growth while the weather is still cool and wet. In this class are peas.

the first onions, carrots and beets, radish, spinach and lettuce. Make the first planting just as soon as the soil has worked up nicely and is no longer muddy. Experienced gardeners, however, don't stop with one seeding. They make a practice of sowing beets, radish, spinach, beets, etc., at least three times, about two weeks apart.

Next there are the semi-hardy things like potatoes, the first corn, beans and cabbage. These will stand cool weather but very little frost. At the end of the line are very tender plants that can stand no frost at all such as melons, cucumbers, tomatoes, pumpkins. There is no object in planting these until both soil and air are warm.

WAINWRIGHT, WEDNESDAY MARCH 27th, 1946

HOUSE NUMBERING FOR WAINWRIGHT?

The town of Wainwright is nearly 36 years old now and no one can deny that the growth of Wainwright has increased more the last six years than at any other time in our history.

Where we have really failed to keep pace with the growth is in failing to adopt a plan of numbering of our places of business and residences.

Other towns our size have this matter on the table at present and are giving it considerable thought. Lacombe, in this weeks issue of the Lacombe Globe, fortells of such a plan to be put into operation in the very near future.

Wetaskiwin has the same idea in mind as well as many other towns, so is it not feasible that Wainwright follow suit, or is it to be left to a latter date like most of the progressive ideas that are forever coming to the fore?

With the great chance of the influx of strangers to the town and district this idea seems to be a very feasible as well as sensible. There is little doubt that the officials of the Calgary Power Co., Alberta Government Telephones or the Wainwright Gas Co., would refute the idea. It must cause untold grief to these officials to find a certain location by the directing of three houses west of the little one story white house across the street on the corner.

Wainwright is no baby now, it has come of age so to speak. It is not time that a good system of numbering were installed? The cost would not be prohibitive. Each householder would be responsible for the location of the house number on the front of the house while the town could carry the very small burden of erecting street and avenue number plates on the post at each corner.

At present there is a great deal of time lost by delivery boys on their daily rounds delivering the wrong orders to the wrong house. This is caused by many families in Wainwright having the same surnames. Wainwright is old enough now to have, in many instances, father and son combinations living in different houses even having the same initials. This must cause loss of time, energy and money in finding the rightful owner of the grocery order.

Another thing that is in the offering, is the present water and sewer installation. If we embark on a plan of house numbering in the immediate future this plan will be in working operation when the time comes to lay water main and sewerage pipes to and from the places of residence.

Any person that has had to apply for water, light, gas or telephone in a city knows the untold advantage of numbering the residence or business places. It is easier to find on maps and there is no possible chance of mix up and convenience reigns supreme.

We are not sure that this can all be brought about without a little trouble or expense, maybe both, but in our minds it would be a well worthwhile venture.

The avenues and streets are now numbered and named, therefore leaving little to do but erect the necessary plates on the poles and carrying out a programme of designating each lot with its appropriate number. The naming of the streets would in all probability have to be changed to numbers for convenience of house numbering. This could be very well done by starting at the eastern limits of the town with 1st street and carry the number through to the west side of town, increasing by one as they went along.

In this way it would be an easy matter to find a house. If the location was on an avenue, as most houses are, the prefix number would be the street number, and if the location was on a street, the prefix number would be the avenue number.

It is our opinion that this could be very easily done, and that it should be accomplished this summer, is by no means out of the way.

Are you of the same opinion or do your opinions differ with ours? Your comments would be greatly appreciated.

WE HAVE BEEN LUCKY

Yes we as citizens in Wainwright have been lucky in the past 17 years in the fact that there has been no major fires in the town. This in all probability is due to the fact that we use natural gas to heat and cook with. There is no denying the fact that without gas we would have suffered many thousands of dollars damage caused through chimney fires and the like that are an old tale now with the using of modern means of heating.

Our fire fighting equipment has in the past, been very out of date and useless. This is a fact that has been known to us for some time. Now the picture is changed. With the reading of the council minutes of a few weeks ago, we find the council has authorized the purchase of an ex R.C.A.F. crash tender. This crash tender has many and varied advantages while still some disadvantages.

There is little doubt but what it can handle any class of fire, such as wood or cloth, electrical, or oil and gasoline. It carries all equipment with it to cope with any emergency, such as stretchers, flame proof blankets, axes, saws and a water tank of over 300 gallons complete with high pressure pump that can be put into operation at the arrival of the scene of the fire. This is one of the main assets of this piece of new equipment, for everyone knows the value of fighting a fire first hand before it gets too big a hold on its object.

The only disadvantages we know of are it is heavy and cumbersome and it takes a driver skilled in the operation of the truck. We are speaking of first hand knowledge, and when we say heavy we mean heavy. The total unit weighs some twelve tons which is quite a weight. Also the unit is unlike any other truck with great gear range to give power. The necessity of a competent and skilled driver-operator is only apparent.

We think that the council showed a very wise move when it called a meeting of former R.C.A.F. personnel to discuss the pros and cons of buying the unit before placing the order with War Assets.

While the unit will cost the town approximately $4,000.00 we think that it will be money well spent. The addition of this equipment to the towns facilities will raise our protection value 100%. With this newest addition and with the fire sirens that were installed a few years back it should be possible to meet any fire emergency that might be lurking in the future.

In The Legislature

by W. Mason

The fifth week of the present session of the Legislature saw the completion of the Debate on the Budget. The Budget Debate was shorter than in some sessions and very free from criticism. Most of the Bills to be brought in at the present session are now before the house.

One Bill will incorporate The Alberta Division of the Canadian Newspaper Association. The objects of this organization are to improve the standard of weekly newspapers; to promote anything which will improve the welfare of the communities in which the papers circulate and, generally, to add to the cultural development of the Province.

The Power Commission Act is being amended by a new Bill which authorizes the Power Commission to acquire shares and securities of a Power Company. The authority of the Commission is increased by the Act so that they will be in a position to see the expansion of rural electrification go forward as fast as economically possible.

The cultural development of Alberta will be promoted by a new act which has as its purpose the extension of library facilities, physical recreation, music, art, handicrafts and other aspects of cultural life.

An amendment to The Solicitization of Marriage Act will make acceptable the Certificate of a Provincial District Nurse in lieu of a Doctor's Certificate to the effect that a specimen of blood for syphilis test has been taken from the applicants for a marriage license. This is made necessary in cases where the applicants live in remote districts.

An amendment to The Noxious Weeds Act makes it an offence, for a person who has received a notice from a Weed Inspector forbidding such person to seed a parcel of land, selling or leasing that land without giving a copy of such notice to the buyer or renter.

There has been a noted improvement in dealing with noxious weeds under the Agricultural Services Board established a year ago. This amendment will further assist their work.

The morning sessions of the Legislature have been pretty well taken up this week by representations on behalf of Labour before the Agricultural Committee of the Assembly. This is a Committee of the entire Assembly. The Labour representation is asking for a forty-hour week with the same take-home pay. They request a sixty-cent an hour minimum wage. Branches of nearly all organized Labour have presented their case, as well as The Manufacturers Association.

Although this Committee has not completed its sittings and will sit again most of next week, I am sure it will be of interest to some of the farm readers to learn the answers given by Mr. Carl Stimpfle, President of the Alberta Farmers Union. The following questions were asked in the Committee by the Attorney General, Honourable Lucien Maynard and Mr. Stimpfle answered each question:

1. Q. Have you got parity of farm prices?
A. No.

2. Q. Do you request today that labour should have a Forty-hour week before farmers have parity of prices?
A. Yes.

3. Q. Do you request today 2 weeks holidays with pay for labour before farmers have parity of prices?
A. Yes.

4. Q. Do you request today minimum wage legislation of Sixty cents an hour before farmers have parity of prices?
A. Yes.

5. Q. Do you request today that labour legislation should be amended before the end of this Session to establish a Forty-hour week for farm labour?
A. For skilled farm labour, Yes.

6. Q. Do you request today that labour legislation should be amended before the end of this Session to establish a minimum of Sixty cents an hour for farm labour?
A. For skilled labour, Yes.

7. Q. Would you support today a legal Packing Plant strike in which the Packing Industry workers asked for more pay and shorter hours of work?
A. The qualified answer given was for a Forty-hour week and a minimum of Sixty cents an hour—Yes.

8. Q. Is the Alberta Farmers Union prepared to assist farm labour to form labour unions with a closed shop?
A. No.

The President of the Alberta Farmers Union, in answer to a later question by an Honourable Member, said that the farmers themselves would be the judges of what constituted "skilled farm labour".

THE MAN IN THE BARN

"Johnny, will you please run out to the barn and get me my yardstick," called Grandmother Ward. "You will probably find it on the cats bin, where Uncle James was using it yesterday."

"I don't want to go, Grandmother," said Johnny Mores.

"Don't want to go? Don't want to do a little errand for Grandmother? What is the matter?"

"I'm afraid—afraid of the man in the barn." There was a frightened look in the little boy's eyes.

"Man in the barn?" said Aunt Nellie. "There's no man in our barn!"

"Yes, there is, Aunt Nellie, a tramp man," persisted the little boy. "I saw him."

Grandmother and Aunt Nellie exchanged glances that plainly showed their thoughts, but they did not argue the matter further.

"Perhaps old Mr. Burton was in the barn looking for a tool," said Grandmother. "He wears such old clothes that it is at work—it is possible Johnny saw him."

"A plain case of imagination," was Aunt Nellie's opinion. A little later she said, "I think Johnny didn't want to go out to the barn and so invented that story. His mother should be told about it, so that if that is what happened, she can correct him for fabricating such tales."

When Johnny's mother returned, Aunt Nellie told her of the incident. Mrs. Mores then asked Johnny when it was he saw the man in the barn and where he saw him. The little boy stoutly stuck to his story, and, moreover, he said he did not want his mother to go into the barn.

"You know, Mother, you told me never to stop to speak to tramp men, and I don't want you to go out to the barn either. Here comes Billie to play with me. He saw the tramp man too. The man lives in the barn."

Billie, the neighbor's son, added his testimony. "He was a big, tall man, and he wore old clothes," he said. In answer to their questions, he told them that the man did not speak to them but that they were much frightened. He was not a neighbor, the boy was sure, for he knew all the neighbors. Johnny, of course, didn't know them for he was a visitor.

Just then the first load of new hay was brought from the meadow, Grandfather flung the big barn door wide open. Johnny's mother took the little boys by the hand and said, "Now we shall go to see the old man."

The boys hung back plainly frightened, particularly when a big cloud of dust arose from the hay mow. "There he is," cried Johnny, pointing to the hay mow.

Johnny's mother didn't laugh, though it was funny.

"That's my scarecrow," said Grandfather. "It's hard to make a scarecrow each summer, so I thought I would save mine through the winter." Sure enough! The old scarecrow stood tall and straight in the middle of the empty mow with a pipe in the corner of his mouth, a battered hat of Grandfather's on his head, his trousers legs stuffed with straw, and his coat pockets bulging. He certainly was not a good-looking man, and his

But Employers and Workers Must Assist

During the war organization of manpower was made possible through co-operation of employers and workers.

This co-operation is no less necessary to assist in organizing the employment market during the present critical period.

Some manpower controls still remain. These are still law. They are aimed at assisting in organizing the employment market.

Remaining controls are designed to help employers and workers—and actually require only minor assistance from the public.

YOU ARE URGED TO COMPLY WITH THE FOUR CONTROLS WHICH REMAIN:

1—Employers MUST notify the National Employment Office of any need for workers, as soon as that need is known.

2—Where employers engage workers outside the National Employment Service they MUST notify the nearest NES Office within three days, that an employee has been engaged. (Form NSS 312 is provided for this purpose.)

3—Unemployed workers seeking employment MUST register with the National Employment Office if unemployed for seven consecutive days.

4—Generally speaking, any employer or employee MUST give seven days' notice to the other party of any intention to terminate employment. (Form NSS 120 is still required.) Exceptions may be learned from the nearest NES Office.

The partners to industry—employers and employees—should help the National Employment Service to promote a high level of employment by complying with these simple rules.

Only with public support can an employment service give full assistance to the community.

Make full use of the Local Office of the National Employment Service. It is there to serve your needs, and those of the entire Community.

whiskers blowing almost over his head in the summer breeze, did not improve his looks. Grandfather carefully lowered the "tramp man" and then they all went out to set him up in the strawbery patch to scare the birds away.

In the house Grandmother was watching from a window. "Nellie," she said, "isn't Molly a wise mother? She never intimated that the boys might be mistaken, nor did she force them to go into the barn, nor laugh at their fright."

"Yes, she is a good mother," answered Aunt Nellie. "I'm sorry I didn't believe Johnny's story. I'm going to make a deep custard pie for him and tell him he may invite Billie to dinner. And in the future, I shall try to give my children the benefit of every doubt."

As Aunt Nellie's youngest child was not yet three months old and her eldest was only two years old, Grandmother smiled, but she said, "It's never too early to begin doing that," and Aunt Nellie agreed.

On March 4 CJCA's newsmen announced for the first time that our War Diary was available to the public. Since that day listeners have been told four times daily that it was a 20-page pamphlet containing more than 1700 World and Canadian events listed, and dated chronologically from January 1939 to January 1946—available for a few cents to cover cost of mailing and handling.

This department's original plans called for 10,000 diaries to be distributed in one month. Publicity plans were to call upon radio, the press, various other publications and direct entry into classrooms through the school superintendents. The start was to be made over radio only. All other media were held in abeyance.

Boom! Boom! Things happened in a hurry! Letters began pouring in—400 to the first day—750 the second—825 the third—1015 the fourth day—and the 10,000 diaries vanished.

Hints for the Household

COOKING OF CEREALS

You would never think of trying to operate an automobile on an empty fuel tank. Yet many people attempt to do half a day's work on practically an empty stomach. You have heard the saying: "You can't eat like a bird and work like a horse." It is necessary that we re-fuel each morning with a good substantial breakfast.

No other meal receives so little thought in its planning and preparation. Breakfasts should not be of the hit-or-miss fashion. Although they follow more or less the same pattern, variety should still be the keynote. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture suggest serving hot cereals. They are economical, give variety and at the same time supply that "morning energy" so needed for success. In order to serve a hot cereal which will be palatable, and give consistently good results, a few simple rules must be followed.

To ascertain the best cooking methods the Consumer Section asked the Household Science departments of Canadian Universities to co-operate with them in conducting an experimental project. The tests were extensive; the proportion of water to the cereal was varied, also the amount of salt required, and the length of cooking time. In addition, all methods most commonly used in Canadian homes were tried out, and the following rules for cooking "regular" and "quick-cooking" rolled oats were those generally conceded to be best.

To date, more than 20,000 have been mailed out and letters continue pouring in at an average of 600 per day with each writer requesting anywhere from one to 20 diaries.

CJCA's general office is flooded with letters, with diaries and with coins, stamps, dollar bills, postal notes and money orders.

And the methods used for enclosing the coins are as varied and ingenious as the writers themselves. But that's another story.

ROLLED OAT PORRIDGE

(using regular rolled oats)

1 cup regular rolled oats
3 cups boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
Start cooking cereal in top of double boiler over direct heat. Sprinkle cereal gradually into the boiling salted water, stirring constantly, to prevent lumping. Keep water boiling to prevent cereal from becoming sticky. Boil over direct heat for 5 minutes, then cook, covered, for 1 hour over boiling water, stirring only occasionally. Makes about 3 cups.
To reduce time of cooking in the double boiler, soak cereal in the specified amount of water overnight, then bring to boil and cook over direct heat for 5 minutes. Finish cooking in double boiler for 30 minutes.
If wheat germ is added, use 2 tablespoons wheat germ per cup of raw cereal.

ROLLED OAT PORRIDGE

(using quick-cooking rolled oats)

1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats
3½ cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
Sprinkle cereal gradually into the boiling salted water, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Keep water boiling to prevent cereal from becoming sticky. Boil over direct heat for 3 minutes, then cover and cook for 10 minutes over boiling water. Makes about 3½ cups.

CRACKED WHEAT CASSEROLE

1 cup cracked wheat
2½ cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup thinly sliced onion
2 cups canned tomatoes OR 1½ cups tomato juice
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne pepper
1½ teaspoon catsup
1 cup grated cheese
Sprinkle gradually the cracked wheat into the boiling, salted water, stirring constantly until thickened. Cook for 2 hours over boiling water. Meanwhile cook onions in fat until tender. Add tomatoes, cover and simmer for 10 minutes. Add ¼ teaspoon salt, cayenne pepper and catsup. In a greased casserole, arrange alternate layers of the cereal, tomatoes and cheese, with the cheese as top layer. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375°F. for 30 minutes. Serve with green beans or cabbage salad. Six servings.

RECIPES

Aloha Date Custard

3 eggs slightly beaten
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
4 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1½ teaspoons nutmeg
½ cups chopped dates
1½ cups wheat and malted barley flakes
Combine eggs, sugar, and salt; add milk gradually and mix well. Pour into greased custard cups. Combine remaining ingredients and fold into custard mixture. Place custard cups in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 50 minutes, or until knife inserted comes out clean. Makes 8 to 10 custards.

Spley Jam Bars

¾ cup sifted flour; ¼ teaspoon double-acting baking powder; 4 tablespoons sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon cinnamon; ¼ teaspoon cloves; ½ cup shortening; ¾ teaspoon almond extract; ¼ teaspoon vanilla; 1 egg; ¼ cup milk; ¼ to ½ cup jam.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, sugar, salt, and spices, and sift again. Cream shortening and flavorings thoroughly. Add egg and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, stirring only to blend. Spread one-third of dough in bottom of greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan. Spread evenly with jam, then with remaining dough. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. When cool, cut in 1½ x 2-inch bars. Makes 18 bars.

AN OPEN LETTER TO CANADA'S EX-FIGHTING MEN

You and your fellow servicemen have fought for the peace, freedom and happiness we now enjoy.

We, in common with all true Canadians, believe that you should receive your fair share—a goodly share—of the prosperity that could not be ours without the victory you have achieved. We believe that, unless our ex-fighting men as a whole reach a good standard of living, Canada cannot attain that full measure of the prosperity for which we all hope.

We, at the Bank of Montreal, are anxious to do all in our power to help every veteran find his particular niche in the new peace-time Canada, either in a job to his liking or in a business of his own that will afford him a full and prosperous life.

Reproduced in this advertisement are some thoughts from a booklet we have prepared to help veterans find their feet in civilian life. It is our hope that when you are struggling with the problem of starting afresh on "civilian street" the booklet may be very helpful to you.

Further, we extend a friendly invitation to you to drop in and chat things over with any one of our managers.

His knowledge of the present situation, local conditions, trends in business circles and the economic life of the community may be useful in the search for your niche. Perhaps he can offer helpful suggestions, sound advice, or a timely bank loan if you are thinking of branching out for yourself.
